The steamship Pacific, Capt. Burns, arrived at Esquimau at nine o'clock this morning. She left San Francisco Jan. 17th, at 4 p.m. Below will be found a summary of the news:

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The following are the particulars of the land attack on Galveston, just received:

On the night of the 31st Dec., a reconnaissance was made by Capt. Shreve, with 25 men, which resulted in the discovery of a large rebel cavalry force in the western part of the city. It will be borne in mind that the only Federal force in the city was a detachment of the 42d Massachusetts regiment, which was stationed at the wharf at the eastern end of the city. This information was sent to Colonel Burrill, the officer in command, and about the same time the Harriet Lane sent up signals announcing the approach of the enemy, both by water and land. Col. Burrill immediately turned out his battalion, numbering less than 300 men, and constructed barricades of barrels, logsheads, and whatever else he could find across the wharf.

He also tore up the planks of the wharf, leaving only a narrow passage for the retreat of the pickets. During the day the rebels brought light pieces of artillery into the city. Concealed in loads of hay, and planted them in a warehouse about a quarter of a mile from the wharf, and when the Harriet Lane was fairly engaged opened fire with these pieces on our land force. These guns had been so placed as to obtain an enfilading range on our men, but a skilful change of position and the barricades defeated the design. While the firing was going on, the rebels advanced from their first position crossed the bridge, and took position in the rear of the town. Our soldiers fought bravely, and for four hours refused to yield to the overpowering forces of the enemy. Twice they were repulsed, notwithstanding their artillery, while our men had none, and notwithstanding their force was ten to our one.

The full fight of day came before the fight was at an end. Our little band was standing up against a fearful odds, when it was discovered that a white flag was floating from the Harriet Lane, and soon after a white flag was displayed from the gunboat Oswego. Col. Burrill immediately despatched an adjutant, in this state of affairs, to consult as to the course to pursue. The adjutant proceeded to East Ferndale, reached Manchester to-day, on its return. The results of the expedition, which consisted of 1,000 cavalry, were the destruction of two important bridges, killing, wounding, and capturing 500 rebels, and taking 700 stand of arms, besides a large amount of flour, salt, and other stores. The expedition was one of the most hazardous of the war, and attended with great hardships and privations. We lost 10 men.

Mr. Upshur has been confirmed as Secre- tary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The House to- day reported the first section of a bill by the Committee of Ways and Means, which provides for the issue of $900,000,000 of 20 year 6 per cent bonds.

The second section provides for the sum of $300,000,000 of 5 to 10 year bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 7½ per cent per annum, payable semi-annually in coin. [The des- patch is somewhat confused here.]

The third section provides for the issue of $300,000,000 of Legal Tender Notes in the usual form.

The fourth section provides for fractional notes not to exceed $50,000,000, to take the place of postal currency.

Another section provides for the deposits of coin in the Sub Treasury, receipts to be given, which may be used to pay duties.

Another section taxes bank circulation 1 per cent on a graduated scale, according to the amount of capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The House passed a resolution of thanks to General Butler for his energetic administration of the department of the Gulf.

FRANKFORT, KY.—The Governor recom- mends the legislature to reject the President's Emancipation Proclamation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Tribune has the text of the memorial presented by Repub- lican Senators to the President on the 18th December. Its four propositions declare as follows: 1st. That a vigorous prosecution of the war is necessary. 2nd. That the Cabinet, which ought to be harmonious, is not, and therefore should be made so. 3d. That the Cabinet should be composed of men who cordially support the policy of the Government. 4th. That generals in the field should also be heartily for the war.

The Richmond Whig says that the Mur- freesboro prisoners will be sent to Richmond, the Yankee Government refusing to receive them unless they have the officers also returned. Of the latter, some 200 in number will be held in confinement, according to the President's [Davis'] proclamation, until the Federal shall be delivered up for punishment.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The Richmond papers received at the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac contain the following:

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 14.—Official information has been received here that Rosencrans has been strongly reinforced, and is repairing the road from here to Nashville. Gen. Wheeler is in his rear, and has destroyed the railroad bridge just finished at Mill Creek, nine miles south of Nashville. The Federals are ten miles this side of Murfreesboro.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—A despatch from Gen. Warren, dated Houston, Texas county, 16th inst., says that the enemy are in full retreat toward Arkansas. Marmaduke's rebel force was in the Hartville fight, between 4,000 and 5,000 strong. Their loss is 300, wounded and captured. The famous guerrilla, McDonald, was killed. The notorious chief, Porter, was badly wounded.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 14.—Official information has been received here, Rosencrans has been strongly reinforced, and is repairing the road from here to Nashville. Gen. Wheeler is in his rear, and has destroyed the railroad bridge just finished at Mill Creek, nine miles south of Nashville. The Federals are ten miles this side of Murfreesboro.

PORTERSON, Jan. 12.—It is reported in Richmond that the rebel gunboat Merrimac [No. 2] is now lying under the guns of Fort Darling, having gone below the obstructions in the river. Now she cannot return in consequence of low water.

CAIRO, Jan. 16.—An arrival from below brings the intelligence that the army and navy forces which were denied success at Vicksburg, have achieved a brilliant victory at Arkansas Post, on the Arkansas River, 50 miles above its mouth. That formidable fortification, with all its guns, commissary stores, ammunition and Quartermaster's stores, surrendered unconditionally last Saturday afternoon to the forces under Gen. Mc Clemand and Commodore Porter. The victory was complete. We are yet without particulars. The number of prisoners taken is reported at from five to seven thousand. Our loss was from three to five hundred.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 3.—It is reported that Gen. Longstreet has superseded Bragg.

The bridges of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and three on the Louisville and Chattanooga Railroad have been washed away by high water. There is no news from Murfreesboro—the telegraph being out of order.

CINCINNATI, January 17.—A letter from Flemingsburg, Ky., dated the 12th says that a gentleman from Abingdon, Va., five days before, reports that 50,000 Confederate troops passed through that place from Richmond, to reinforce the rebel army in Tennessee. This seems to corroborate the telegraphic report from the Army of the Potomac, that 55 regiments had been sent from the Army into Tennessee. It is doubtful, however, whether they can get through, as Gen. Carter had destroyed the road in Eastern Tennessee before they could have arrived there.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 11.—Gen. Sherman's official report places our losses at Vicksburg at 1300 killed and wounded, and 300 lost by capture. The Jackson Appeal says the rebel loss was 1000 killed, wounded and missing.

CHARLESTON, S. C., January 11.—Late advices from San Antonio, Texas, state that the Brownsville (Texas) Express brings information that 4,000 French troops have landed at Matamoras and taken possession of the city.

AT NEWBURN, N. C., on Wednesday last, there were 55 Yankee transports with forces there, including the commands of three Major-Generals, which gives a total force of 55,000, at least. There is also a formidable fleet at Beaufort, [N. C.]

The iron-clad Passaic and Montauk are also at Newburn. It is supposed the expedition is intended to capture Wilmington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17th.

Private despatches received to-day in this city, and dated last night at New York, say that gold opened yesterday on the New York stock exchange at $48, ran down to $45, and closed at $45½. The market was very unsettled, owing to the cloud resting on Government securities.

HEADQUARTERS, ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Jan. 11.—The Richmond Enquirer says that Gen. Magruder, in an official report concerning the capture of the Harriet Lane, at Galveston, says that we [the rebels] have taken 600 prisoners and a large quantity of valuable stores, arms, etc. The Harriet Lane is but little injured.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Aldrich of Min- nesota offered the following: Resolved—That the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to inquire into the expediency and necessity of giving a bounty of 150 acres of land to each soldier of any old regiment; that their land be located on any rebel plantation as soon as the rebellion is crushed. Passed, 65 to 59.

CARDO, Jan. 12.—A Vicksburg paper states that Gen. Banks and Com. Parrott are coming up the river with a large force; also, that the rebels have received large reinforcements, and that their numbers now inside the fortifications are 100,000. The failure of the expedition against Vicksburg is attributed to the non-arrival of reinforcements at the proper time.

CARDO, Jan. 12.—Jeff Davis made an ad- dress to the Mississippi Legislature, on the 26th December, on the war, at great length. Among other things, he said that when he arrived in the State Gen. Grant's army was prowling down among them, but when they went to Granadanothing could be seen of the enemy but tracks. He had discovered that the real point of attack was Vicksburg and Port Hudson. All who desired to save the Southern Confederacy must hasten there, and lend a helping hand. These places must be saved at all hazards, because if lost the Confederacy would be cut in two. If they stand, the people Northwest will grow restive, be- come discouraged and cease to support the war, and demand an end of the contest. To the Northwest he looked for the first gleam of peace; therefore Vicksburg must be held at all hazards.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The Alabama is supposed to be going on a cruise to the Eastern hemisphere.

Vicksburg is very strongly fortified 6 or 8 miles along the Mississippi to prevent the shelling of the town.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Important despatches of Jeff Davis have been captured, addressed to the Confederate agents in Europe. They state that unless European intervention takes place, or by dividing the free States and thus paralyzing the efforts of the Federal, the Confederates must give up their cause as lost.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Richmond Whig says that the Murfreesboro prisoners will be sent to Richmond, the Yankee Government refusing to receive them unless they have the officers also returned. Of the latter, some 200 in number will be held in confinement, according to the President's [Davis'] proclamation, until the Federal shall be delivered up for punishment.

Wheeler is in his rear, and has destroyed the railroad bridge just finished at Mill Creek, nine miles south of Nashville. The Federals are ten miles this side of Murfreesboro.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—Full details of the rebel attack on Springfield, Mo., place our loss at 18 killed and 100 wounded; not one-quarter of the wounded are severely hurt. The rebels killed number 30.

PORT HENRY, Jan. 16.—The steamer Jas. Means, which left here last Friday, loaded with commissary and quartermaster's stores for Gen. Dodge's army at Corinth, has re- turned and reports the rebels encamped in the vicinity of Savannah to the number of 2500. Early on Sunday morning 1600 men arrived at the landing from Corinth, as a guard for the trains. Capt. Means fears that they were attacked and captured before a return to Corinth, as the presence of the rebels in that vicinity was entirely unexpected.

The rebels had sent for and were receiving artillery for the purpose of blockading the river. He thinks that it is only by chance that he got through safe, as the rebels were not expecting an arrival so soon and were not prepared to attack. The rebel forces crossed the river near Clifton on their retreat, swimming his horses and carrying his artillery across on flat boats. It is believed that no steamer will now be able to go up the river without being convoyed by gunboats.

ST. LOUIS, January 17.—A despatch from Gen. Warren, dated Houston, Texas county, 16th inst., says that the enemy are in full retreat toward Arkansas. Marmaduke's rebel force was in the Hartville fight, between 4,000 and 5,000 strong. Their loss is 300, wounded and captured. The famous guerrilla, McDonald, was killed.
